NEW VERNON VOLUNTEER FIRST AID SQUAD

Join Us for a Hometown Hero Open House to Celebrate EMS Week

Friday, May 15, from 5:00 to 8:00 PM

In New Vernon, neighbors help neighbors. National EMS Week gives us a chance to celebrate that spirit, the care, service, and support that show up when people need help most.

On Friday, May 15, from 5:00 to 8:00 PM, the New Vernon Volunteer First Aid Squad will host a Hometown Hero Open House at Firehouse One, 22 Village Road. It will be a fun, family-friendly evening for residents of all ages. The event will celebrate EMS Week, recognize the members of our First Aid Squad and public safety partners, and most importantly thank our entire community for all their support. We know it will be a great Friday night out with your family and our community including a pizza dinner, hands-on activities, and the chance to meet neighbors and learn something new.

Families will be able to tour the ambulances, see police, fire, and EMS equipment up close, learn hands-only CPR, and try simple skills like checking pulse and oxygen levels. There will be supervised activities for younger children, engaging stations for school-aged kids, and plenty for adults too.

For anyone curious about joining the First Aid Squad, the evening is also a chance to learn what volunteering really looks like including training, shifts, commitment, and camaraderie. Members and officers will be there to answer questions and help residents explore how they might serve, whether by becoming an EMT, a driver, or by supporting the Squad as a neighbor helping neighbors. We hope you will join us for a fun and engaging evening celebrating service and community.

Passaic River Cleanup

Sat, May 9, Cleanup 10:00 am - 12:00 pm / Picnic 1:00 – 3:00 pm

Multiple locations along the Passaic River

Be a part of the first-ever, full Passaic River cleanup in honor of Jane Goodall! We've identified several local parks and dry land sites along the river that could use some attention, and we're rounding up volunteers to help pick up the trash. When trash collects in these areas along the stream banks, it will eventually make its way into the water, polluting the river and impacting local wildlife. These types of cleanups make a big impact on the health of the river as a whole. Hosted by GSWA - a Passaic River Waterkeeper Alliance Affiliate, AmeriCorps New Jersey Watershed Ambassadors, and Roots & Shoots New Jersey, a chapter of Jane Goodall's community-based youth organization. Jane was an inspiration to countless people. She led by example, helping people around the world to engage in their environment in meaningful ways. Join us in honoring Jane legacy at the cleanup, followed by a free community picnic (picnic location to be announced).

NEW VERNON GARDEN CLUB

Poison!

Sally Quinn for the New Vernon Garden Club

I am one of the lucky 10-15% of the population who can sleep in a bed of poison ivy and arise unscathed. It is sort of a horticultural public enemy #1. The culprit is urushiol, the oily sap in poison ivy, sumac and oak. Urushiol is not my enemy so imagine my surprise when I got a poison ivy-type rash and ridiculously itchy blisters after trimming my ENGLISH ivy four or five years ago, in, maybe, April. I have trimmed English ivy for most of my gardening life with no issues, but probably not in April, so I posited that it may be only the spring sap that was the enemy. I couldn't find any supportive information but have stayed away from spring ivy since. During one of our horrible spring storms this year, an old tree at my son's house snapped off and fell into a large bed of English Ivy. He raked up and collected the bits that broke off and ended up at urgent care, where they put him on steroids, his reaction was so potent. This time, I was able to get information! English ivy sap contains falcarinol, which can cause very severe reactions “especially during the spring, when there is active growth, and can be particularly irritating when exposed to sunlight” (before shading leaves come out). There can be a slight delay in the response so many people have probably been affected and misattributed the cause. Three other common-ish plants that can cause adverse skin reactions are Black Eyed Susans, via “plant juice”(!) and the stiff, irritating hairs on the stems and leaves; euphorbia (spurge), through its milky sap that can even result in scarring in severe cases and temporary blindness if it comes in contact with the eyes; and lastly, fig and mulberry leaves, which can cause skin irritation and must have been fun in Eden! So forewarned is forearmed. Buy gloves and clean your tools! And if exposed, wash as soon as possible with warm water and plenty of grease-cutter dish soap and/or rub with vinegar, if available.

NEIGHBORS FOR TOMORROW IN HARDING (NFTH)

Neighbors for Tomorrow in Harding (NFTH)--- It is important for residents to stay informed about Housing Development projects underway in Harding Township and the implications for our community way of life. The goal of NFTH is to communicate with residents and to advocate for transparency from our Township Committee as options are evaluated for development in our town.

Only one development-related item appeared on Tuesday's Agenda: Ordinance #08-2026, addressing street names for the 240-unit Hurstmont project on Route 202 next to Glen Alpin.

No updates were provided on Glen Alpin. Going forward, if Affordable Housing or Glen Alpin items appear on a TC Agenda, we will send a pre-meeting update.

More broadly, TC members held a lengthy discussion on potential changes to Harding's Tree Ordinance. Key issues included: requiring tree companies to register with the township, associated fees and penalties, concerns about added bureaucracy, alignment with Harding's tradition of limited government, and impacts on neighboring properties. Draft amendments are in progress and may appear on next month's Agenda.

The next TC Meeting is Monday, May 11 at 7 PM at Town Hall.

Interested Harding Township residents are invited to join Neighbors for Tomorrow in Harding to stay abreast of development in our town.
